Vandalism plagues Flights of Imagination playground

By Mary Weber
Staff Writer

Recent vandalism and suspicious activity at the Flights of Imagination playground in the Village of Lincoln ignited discussion during a Lincoln Village Council meeting last week on how best to keep the area secure.

As a result, a new surveillance camera has been ordered, a playground committee is forming, and the village is looking for volunteers to keep a watchful eye on the area.

Sometime after 8 p.m. on May 1 vandals stole a video camera mounted near the playground restrooms, flipped over and broke five picnic tables at the play area and turned over a porta-potty located at the baseball diamond. The picket fence archway leading to the playground was also damaged, according to Bonnie Gauthier, village trustee. Gauthier lives near the playground and was walking around it the next day when she noticed the damage.

Phil Jordan, village president, said this isn't the first time the playground had been vandalized and he was disappointed about what has been happening in and around the area.

"There are things going on there that should never be happening at a children's playground. The area is being used for things which you can't imagine. When you see two vehicles there in the parking lot for 15 or 20 minutes and both have just one man in each vehicle, that tells me they are doing something they should not be doing. Teenagers are also parking there doing things they shouldn't," Jordan said. Trustees agreed saying the trash left behind in the area tells exactly what types of activity is going on there.

Jordan said when he first saw the playground years ago he was very impressed especially because the community raised the $125,000 for the play structure and installed it with volunteer labor. He estimated the playground value to be about $500,000 today.

Unfortunately, its location is not ideal, since it is in one of the most secluded spots in the village, according to Jordan. He was steadfast in saying the playground will not close, however, several changes will have to be made.

The first change is to purchase a new camera with a zoom lens to be put into a secure building near the playground. The camera cost is about $1,000 and, according to Jordan, once in place, it should be able to detect activity clearly from any angle. The council unanimously approved to move funding it had in place for a new water system at the playground to be used to purchase the camera instead.

"We will catch who did this. We have caught kids before and they ended up in the juvenile (court) process. We do have video which shows who may have done this (recent) damage. It is unfortunate, 99.9 percent of our kids are wonderful. Most of the kids who use the playground enjoy it, appreciate it and respect it," Jordan said.

One of the changes Jordan suggested is keeping the lights around the playground on from dusk to dawn year-round. In the past, the village has shut off the lights at night during the winter months to save costs. The lighting is being changed to more economical LED bulbs which will allow the lights to be on at a fraction of the cost.

Jordan also suggested a playground committee be formed, consider closing parking near the white fence entrance and moving the entrance to where the two ball field fences are. He would like to see parking allowed only at the ball fields.

"By opening an entrance by a parking lot, we have created a monster. That needs to be roped off with no traffic there whatsoever. I'd like to see railroad ties with chains roping off areas of easy access," Jordan said.

Harrisville Harbor sees construction again this season

Mary Weber
Staff Writer

A flurry of construction activity is underway again this season at the Harrisville Harbor of Refuge.

The harbor is in its final stages of phase one and two of a five phase plan, expecting construction to last until the spring of 2020.

Phase one and two included replacing the south docks, resurfacing the main T-docks, putting in a deck visiting area and fixing an electrical issue which shut down the power to the south docks last summer.

Jim Ferguson, harbor master, said since the weather broke after a bad snow storm last month a steady stream of electricians, plumbers, contractors and supplies has come into the harbor.

"It was a fairly uneventful winter until last month. The storm ripped the end of the north dock completely off. Fortunately, it was set for demolition this spring as part of phase three. The damage won't cost us any extra and won't set the construction (timing) back," Ferguson said.

After talking with the general contractor, Ferguson believes everything to be on schedule for the main spine and the floating dock to be put together by Memorial Day, although the harbor may have limited utilities until the first of June. Ferguson is keeping his fingers crossed it is done by then as that is the weekend of the Lincoln Lion's fishing tournament.

By the second week of July, Ferguson is confident phase three will be underway which will include removing what is left of the north dock including the many pieces recovered after the storm. "By the first of August we should have half of the new spine on the north side and about 16 or 17 finger piers in place. Unfortunately, that won't help our season much this year because July is our big month. We will be getting new spines and new utilities, and everything will be up to code, but we will be putting the old floating fingers back in until phase five," Ferguson said.

He expects to have 46 slips available by the first of June with 19 of those committed, seasonal customers, leaving 27 transient slips available

Registering Students

The League of Women Voters (LWV) of Alpena County and People for Social Justice are working together to register students to vote. During the month of May members will be at Alcona High School, Alpena High School and Rogers City High School to encourage students to take part in the democracy by engaging in the voting process. The league's slogan: "Democracy Is Not a Spectator Sport" sums up the beliefs of both groups. Members of both groups will be working together throughout the summer and fall at various events to try to boost the percentage of voters who participate in the all-important voting process.

National LWV Programs and Outreach Director Maggie Bush said, "in order to make our democracy work and survive, people need to get informed and participate in voting. But here's the rub: young people have also historically voted at lower rates than their older counterparts. Only about half of eligible youth voted in 2016. The League's goal nationwide is to reach 38 communities, 400 schools, tens of thousands of newly registered, fully energized, empowered voters — ready to participate in our democracy."

Flute & Friends Concert

The ninth annual Flute & Friends concert will be presented on Sunday, May 20 at Trinity Episcopal Church in Alpena at 2 p.m. The concert is directed by longtime Alcona County resident and musician MaryAnn Hubbard and feature several local instrumentalists and vocalists.

The concept of the Flute & Friends recital series was developed nine years ago to highlight and share with northeastern Michigan the variety that flute music brings to the stage when combined with non-flutist musicians. To that end, several accomplished local musicians will be featured; and new to the inclusive nature of the concert will be the addition of the visual art of photography by Harrisville resident Rick Duncan.

Another special part of the recital will feature an interaction between two differing disciplines of fine art — music and photography. Duncan's videos of many of the rivers of northern Michigan will be shown while being accompanied by the musician's river music. Admission is $5 per person at the door.

He feels the playground should have restrictions on when it is open and there should be an age limit on who can use the playground, which was built for children ages 12 and under. He suggested others could still be allowed into the area, but only if they were accompanying appropriately aged children.

Jordon would like volunteers or what he calls "playground champions" to walk through the playground daily and, perhaps, drive around it later in the evening or at night to keep an eye on what is happening there. If they notice anything suspicious they are to call 911.

A police report has been filed with the Alcona County Sheriff's Department and Jordon has been told there will be increase patrols in the area. The Michigan State Police is also doing an investigation on what has been discovered on a video taken around the time of the incident.

Gauthier volunteered to head the playground committee and is planning to hold a community meeting sometime in June to organize volunteers and discuss how best to proceed to keep the playground secure. No date for the meeting has been set.

CryptoQuip answer

To see how much starchy grain a country is using, would you calculate its consumer rice index?

Solomon's Seal are native to woodlands in North America, and can often be found growing in the wild. Its flowers greatly resemble the Lily of the Valley, its relative. With its graceful arching branches, exquisite white flowers shaped like little bells and tipped with yellow or green, the plant can grow up to four feet high. It has blue-green leaves that turn golden-yellow in autumn, and at that time the plant will have blue berries.

Alcona Tigers split with Rogers City

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

The Alcona varsity baseball team capped off a busy week with a win on Thursday, as it salvaged a split with visiting Rogers City. The Hurons won the opener 5-0 with the Tigers getting a 10-6 win in the nightcap of the North Star League double-header.

In game one, Josh Kilbourn and Devon Mills both pitched in the loss, with Alex Stephenson, Matt Krisan and Jacob Sytek each getting one hit.

"This one was disappointing, for whatever reason we could not hit the ball hard," said head coach Nate Walker. "We put the ball in play most of the game but Rogers City made the plays behind their pitcher."

The Tiger bats came alive in game two, with Stephenson pitching well enough to get the win. He had six strikeouts in five innings. Tim Hutchinson tossed the final inning.

Jack Hutchinson had three hits and three RBI, Stephenson had a double and two singles, while Jonathan Surgener, Tim Hutchinson and Sytek all had two hits.

"Alex really stepped it up, he was a very vocal leader and that's exactly what we need out of him moving forward with the rest of the season," Walker said.

On Tuesday, May 8 the Tigers played in Hillman where they came up short in a pair of games, 11-1 and 8-2.

Luke Loyer took the loss in the opener. Kilbourn had a double, with Sytek getting the lone RBI. Tim Hutchinson and Krisan had one hit each.

Game two saw Krisan and Jonathan Surgener take the mound. The offense saw Tim Hutchinson, Mills and Krisan all get two hits apiece while Krisan and Sytek added one RBI each.

"Coming into the game we knew we would be hurting for pitching and we just couldn't seem to muster up any offense all day," Walker said.

On Monday, May 7 Alcona served as hosts against Oscoda in its North Star League opener. The Tigers won the opener 10-8 but dropped game two 12-1.

Kilbourn got the win, striking out five with Loyer coming in to finish off the game for a save.

Krisan had a pair of doubles, one single and four RBI. Jack Hutchinson had a double and a single. Loyer had two hits. Stephenson smacked a two run home run. Kilbourn had a hit, walked three times and scored three times.

"The balls were flying off the bat in this one, with four homers total," Walker said. "Alex's home run started us off and we never looked back. This was a good win for us."

In game two, Mills started with Antavius Mikazes pitching in relief. Krisan had two hits and Sytek had one hit and one RBI.

On Saturday, May 5 the Tigers played in the Johannesburg-Lewiston Invitational, where they suffered a pair of losses.

Game one was a 5-4 loss to Mancelona. Kilbourn was the starting pitcher, though Ezra Stoley took the loss in relief.

Mills had a double, single and two RBI. Krisan and Stephenson had two hits apiece.

The Tigers finished the day with a 7-3 loss to Johannesburg. Mills started the game pitching and struck out three in two innings, while Jack Hutchinson took the loss.

Mills also had a double and an RBI on offense with Stephenson getting one hit and one RBI.

Alcona was in Whittemore-Prescott on Monday, hosts Atlanta on Thursday, May 17, heads to the Tawas Invitational on Saturday, May 19 and is in Mio on May 21.

We Need Your Help!

It's been a dream of many in the community to see a park on the small lot next to the Richard's Pharmacy building.

We need $6,000 to secure the property and will be writing grants to landscape the future park. The plan for the park will be a mix of hardscape and easy maintenance shrubs and trees. A large patio area would allow for multiple uses for the community. Art displays and places to sit would be the focus. The location for this park is perfectly located as it can be seen from US-23 and is near local business.

Any questions please call Becky Bean at (989)724-6569

until August.

Around the third week of July the harbor typically sees an influx of sailboats on the way back from the Port Huron to Mackinaw race. Ferguson has informed the race committee of the situation at the harbor and expects a repeat of last year when many boaters passed on docking at the Harrisville Harbor due to the limit of slips available.

"It will be a financial challenge for the harbor, but fortunately, the harbor relies a lot on fuel sales and I've already had two tankers of fuel brought in and I'm already pumping gas. We ask people be patient with us. Construction doesn't always happen on time and their crews have things fairly torn up. It's a growing pain, but we are growing in a good direction and looking forward to 25 or 30 more years from these docks after it's all done," Ferguson said.

The fourth phase funding request has been submitted to the state waterways commission and although it hasn't been approved yet, Ferguson doesn't see an issue with getting the approval. The fourth phase includes replacing the fuel dock, the fuel delivery system and sewage system.

Ferguson is hoping phase four will begin this fall with the fifth phase, putting in all new floating fingers onto the spine, earmarked for spring of 2020 unless funding is released earlier.

The total of all five phases of construction is speculated to cost $2,500,000 funded by a series of Michigan Department of Natural Resource grants.

Ferguson was pleased to have most of his crew from last summer. Typically, the harbor hires five or six employees in addition to Ferguson's job during summer months, but if traffic is down due to construction they won't need that many working.

Ferguson would like to get boaters into town to see that is happening in the community. To help do this, the $25 fee to put an eight by 10-inch poster advertising a business or an organization event in the harbor kiosk will be discontinued.

"I felt it was a detriment to charge the community to advertise in the kiosk. I'd much rather have it full of options for the boaters than to give them the impression nothing was going on in our community. Of course, if someone wants to make a donation to put their flier up, we won't turn it away," Ferguson said.

Fliers will be put in the kiosk on a first come, first serviced basis and can be turned into the harbor office.

For more information on progress at the harbor and photos, visit and like the Harrisville Harbor of Refuge Facebook page.

SENIOR LIFESTYLES

'Extra Help' program helps seniors with medication costs

Dear Savvy Senior,
Are there any special Medicare programs that help seniors with their medication costs? My 74-year-old mother, who lives primarily on her Social Security, takes several high-priced drugs that sap her income even with her Medicare drug plan.

Looking for Assistance

Dear Looking,

Yes, there's a low-income subsidy program called Extra Help that can assist seniors on a tight budget with paying for their premiums, deductible and co-payments in their Medicare (Part D) prescription drug plan.

Around 10 million people are receiving this subsidy, but another two million may qualify for it and don't even realize it. They're missing out on hundreds, maybe thousands, of dollars in savings each year.

Changes in the law make it easier than ever to qualify for the Extra Help program. Even if your mom applied and didn't qualify before, she may be eligible now. The amount of additional assistance she would receive depends on her income and assets. If she qualifies for help, she'll pay no more than $3.35 for a generic drug and $8.35 for a brand-name drug in 2018.

To get the subsidy, your mom's assets can't be more than $14,100 (or $28,150 for married couples living together). Bank accounts, stocks and bonds count as assets, but her home, vehicle, personal belongings, life insurance and burial plots do not.

Also, your mom's monthly income can't be more than $1,538 (or $2,078 for married couples). If your mom supports a family member who lives with her, or lives in Alaska or Hawaii, her income can be higher.

In addition, the government won't count any money if your mom receives help for household expenses like food, rent, mortgage payments, utilities and property taxes.

There are three ways to apply for Extra Help: online at SSA.gov/prescriptionhelp; by calling Social Security at (800) 772-1213; or by visiting her local Social Security office.

The application form is easy to complete, but you'll need your mom's Social Security number and information about her bank balances, pensions and investments. Social Security will review her application and send her a letter within a few weeks letting you know whether she qualifies.

If your mom doesn't qualify for Extra Help, she may still be able to get help from a state pharmacy assistance program or a patient assistance program. Visit Benefits-CheckUp.org and click on "Medications" to search for these programs.

If your mom is eligible for Extra Help, she may also qualify for help with her other Medicare expenses through her state's Medicare Savings Program.

State Medicaid programs partner with the federal government, so income and asset qualifications vary depending on where she lives. Medicare Savings Programs will pay her entire Medicare Part B premium each month. Some also pay for Part B coinsurance and copayments, depending on her income. Contact your mom's state Medicaid office to determine if she qualifies for benefits in her state.

You can also get help through her State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP), which provides free one-on-one Medicare counseling in person or over the phone. To locate a SHIP counselor in your area, visit ShiptaCenter.org or call the eldercare locator at (800) 677-1116.

(Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit SavvySenior.org.)

Alcona 4-H teams place in Great Lakes Regional ROV Competition

The Great Lakes Regional ROV Competition issued a challenge to local students - design and build an underwater robot that can locate the wreckage of an airplane, install equipment to monitor earthquakes and completing a renewable energy project, all of which will be simulated in the Great Lakes Regional ROV Competition at the Great Lakes Maritime Heritage Center in Alpena held on May 12.

Hosted annually by Thunder Bay National Marine Sanctuary, the Great Lakes Regional MATE ROV Competition encourages Michigan students from Alpena, Stockbridge, Petoskey, and other local towns to learn and apply science, technology engineering, and math skills as they develop underwater robots - also known as remotely operated vehicles or ROVs - to complete missions that simulate real world problems. "For 14 years this competition has been an important part of Thunder Bay National Marine Sanctuary's education efforts to inspire the next generation of underwater explorers, scientists, and engineers," said sanctuary education coordinator Sarah Waters.

The competition theme and missions change each year. Because the international competition will take place near Seattle, Wash., this year's contest will highlight the role ROVs play in the Pacific Northwest, supporting activities that deal with archaeology, seismology and renewable energy.

She explained that through the competition scenario, students are being exposed to the region's mountains and rivers crafted from volcanic eruptions and earthquakes, its discovery boom in renewable energy and its rich aviation history, which is the reason why Seattle is often referred to as "Jet City."

According to Waters, students also are being exposed to business practices as they are tasked with creating mock companies and work together to "manufacture, market and sell" their products, i.e. their ROVs.

This simulated company approach promotes the development of entrepreneurship and leadership skills as students manage a project and budget, brainstorm solutions, prepare reports and poster displays, and deliver presentations, all necessary skills in their future careers.

The Great Lakes Regional ROV Competition is one of 31 regional contests held around the world and managed by the Marine Advanced Technology Education (MATE) Center. The winning teams will earn the opportunity to compete in MATE's 18th annual international ROV competition, which will be held June 21-23 at Weyerhaeuser King County Aquatic Center in Federal Way, Wash.

Think like a trout

Many anglers search for the latest tips and tricks when fishing for trout and one of the best may also be the most simple: don't forget that trout can see.

Trout are known to have excellent vision so consider the following if you head out this spring:

- Cast out far ahead of you to prevent the trout from seeing you.
- When wading, do so carefully and avoid rapid movement which could spook the fish.
- Don't wear any shiny objects; including watches or tools on your vest.
- Stay away from wearing bright colors, stick to dark browns and greens.
- Remember that trout usually face into the current so cast upstream.

Northeast Lower Peninsula May 10

• Overall: The water is still very cold and fishing has been on the slow side. Everything is behind schedule this year so anglers will want to plan for it.

• Alpena: All of the city docks are in and the fish cleaning station is open. The waters in the lake and bay are still very cold but anglers are heading out for lake trout. Try 40 to 55 feet around Thunder Bay Island and run spoons near the bottom or use flashers. Green, blue and chartreuse have been good colors. Try higher up in the water column with orange spoons or bright colored body baits for Atlantics.

Those fishing closer to shore picked up the occasional lake trout, walleye or Atlantic on bright colored spoons and body baits. Most are staying close to the mouth of the river where the warmer water is.

• Thunder Bay River: There is still a lot of water flow as two gates were still open. Those fishing up near the dam are catching a lot of suckers right now. A few walleye were taken on deep diving body baits early morning or late in the day. Steelhead anglers drifting flies or beads had limited success. Try to get away from the suckers and the fast water and you may get some walleye or steelhead. Boats drifting or jigging from the drawbridge to the mouth were getting some walleye on jigs with twisters tipped with minnows but the action was slow.

• Oscoda: Boat and pier anglers found walleye, lake trout, and a couple of Atlantic salmon when still-fishing minnows or casting deep diving crank baits, jerk baits, and spoons at the mouth of the river. Silver, blue, clown, and rainbow were good colors. Jigs and soft plastics have also taken walleye and a few smallmouth bass. The walleye bite was best in the evening.

• AuSable River: Was warming fairly quickly and temperatures were in the low 50s. Steelhead and a few white suckers were caught when drifting spawn, beads, wax worms and nymph or yarn flies. Those casting plugs have also taken steelhead. Actively feeding fish can still be taken from the holes. Streamer flies and plugs should become more effective as the water warms and fish begin to drop back. Walleye and smallmouth bass were caught in the lower river casting crank baits or drifting minnows.

• Black River: Anglers targeting steelhead were casting spoons or floating spawn bags. The skid pier is in.

• Harrisville: A couple of walleye and lake trout were taken by those casting or trolling crank baits at the mouth of the harbor and along the walls. Those trolling spoons inside 30 feet caught a few lake trout and walleye. Lake trout were also taken out deeper in 70 to 80 feet between Harrisville and Sturgeon Point. Migratory walleye from Saginaw Bay do not appear to have shown up in significant numbers yet. Steelhead and an Atlantic salmon were taken from the harbor by those floating spawn near the creek or casting from the rocks.

• Tawas: Those fishing the docks caught some nice walleye.

Glen Roberts sick and back in U.S. sanitarium

May 16, 1918 ~ New York, May 3, 1918.

My dear Mother and Brother:— Received your letter this morning; glad to hear from you and you are all well. I am feeling pretty good, eating three good meals a day. Lots of milk and eggs to eat.

The way your letter read it would lead one to believe I was sick a bed. Now mother, don't let anything like this run through your mind. I am up and around, feel strong and sleep good at night and have no pain at all. I was troubled quite a little with pleurisy when I first landed but it has now died out so I feel fine. This is the effects of pneumonia that is all that is bothering me and a cold or cough which I will have until I get into dry air.

France has too wet a climate; it rains about every two days and the nights are very cold and wet and I was on the front for 7½ months without much time off. The mud was up to your waist most all the time and then we were always in range of shell fire. Over 300 of our fellows were killed before the first of January. We would work nine days and if we had good luck we might get the tenth day off.

I was running a French fire engine, pumping water to camp when I first went over, then I was firing a locomotive for four months right through the shell fire everyday, bring up ammunition and supplies as close to the trenches as possible. I have been in about 500 air raids at night and have seen plenty of shrapnel fall and splatter even in the cab of our engine.

It was only toward the last that I got on working at electrical work. They never got the job ready until I was sick.

I worked for about three weeks with a temperature of about 100 most every afternoon. I had a pain in my left side for about a month and every time I went to the doctor it was pills.

One day when I was off I went to Base Hospital No. 17 and seen Major Torey. This man is Mr. Ford's brother-in-law. I knew him from when I was on the yacht in Detroit. He examined me and said I had pneumonia and ordered me put in bed. They had to drain my lung with a needle, putting it in my back and pushing it into my lung. It was then that I was almost a goner. They took about a pint of puss out of me—that is what was causing the pain. After this I recovered rapidly and through Major Torey I am back in "God's country."

My lung is pretty weak and if I stayed in France I would contract tuberculosis of the lung. Well, I'm here anyway and as soon as I'm well I'll be discharged from the Army.

But I kind of hated to leave France and the fellows. Believe me I liked it up on the front some excitement all the time. We used to sleep days and work under darkness.

I am going to ask for a furlough to come home when I get settled. We are going to Wayneville, North Carolina from here and from there to Ft. Blair, New Mexico. These places are army sanitariums for tuberculosis patients.

Now mother don't worry. This is my case, I have told you all. The pneumonia was brought on from faint attacks of gas in my lung. I will recover quite fast. Will close.

Your loving son,
Glen Roberts.
P. S. Wait until you here from me before answering as we are leaving this afternoon. Tell Harold I think he is doing fine. I will try and send him the money for the gun. What does he want—a 22?

Glen Roberts' picture and mention of him is made in a special article in the Detroit Free Press of Sunday 12th.

Local News

May 16, 1918 ~ Game Wardens Edwin Hatch and B. Napper were here the first of the week and swore out warrants for four men caught spearing fish in West Branch of Hubbard Lake. Sheriff Forsyth has tried in vain to locate the men described in the warrant and is inclined to think the fishermen "put one over" on the wardens by giving fictitious names. The warden came upon the men at night and they gave their names, or some names at least, and said they would come to Harrisville Monday to make their appearance in court. The men were strangers to the warden and it is doubtful if he could identify them from his short contact with them on the stream.

Answer: A barometer.

StarWatch By Gary Becker - Boots on Mars

Boots on the moon occurred with Neil Armstrong's first historic steps onto its surface on July 20, 1969, but since those glory days of the late 60's and early 70's, little has been done by NASA to encourage further human exploration of the solar system. Three wars at a trillion dollars plus hasn't helped US efforts to afford such "extravagance." The Chinese will probably put boots on the moon next, but now some private foundations are seriously competing to go to Mars well ahead of NASA's planned first human flyby of the Red Planet in 2033 and its first landing in 2039. Mars Inspiration, the brainchild of Dennis Tito, an investment banker with solid scientific credentials, is currently funding and formulating plans to send a male and a female astronaut on a 589-day Martian flyby mission which would first use a gravity assist from Venus to slingshot the spacecraft towards Mars and bring it to within 60 miles of its surface before returning home. Launch is scheduled for 2021. A reentry vehicle, along with a tubular-shaped pod, would serve as the astronauts' personal and storage areas during the mission. The crew would have about 600 cubic feet of living space, with no spacesuits and no airlock to exit the craft. Perhaps even wilder is a Dutch initiative named Mars One which plans to send a crew of four astronauts to the Red Planet about once every two years to establish a permanent Martian base. The Living Unit is envisioned to be a lander that would utilize an inflatable section for the habitat and an airlock to access the surface. It would be fully functional by arrival time. Mars One is to be paid for by selling subscriptions to view the crews while on the planet. Boots on Mars for them is 2028, pushed back from 2023 because of funding issues. Oh, I failed to mention one critical fact about Mars One. The astronauts would become the first true residents of another world because there are no return provisions. Strange But True

By Samantha Weaver

- It was noted Spanish filmmaker Luis Bunuel who made the following sage observation: "Age is something that doesn't matter, unless you are a cheese."
- You might be surprised to learn that we call coffee beans aren't actually beans -- they're the pits of the coffee beans.
- Would you believe me if I told you that there were parachutists (better known now as skydivers) before there were airplanes? Yep, it's true! In Paris in the year 1900, a man leaped from the Eiffel Tower and made a safe descent using a parachute. It wasn't until December 17, 1903, that the Wright Brothers made the first controlled, sustained powered flight in Kitty Hawk, North Carolina.
- According to statisticians, about 200 people a year die while watching -- not playing -- football.
- Of all the stamps that have been used by the U.S. Postal Service, more have featured George Washington than any other person; so far there have been 305 with the likeness of the nation's first president.
- If you ever make a trip to Alaska, you might want to keep in mind the fact that it is illegal there to wake a sleeping bear for the purpose of taking its picture.
- We don't often associate museums with beverages, but it seems that they're fairly popular throughout the world. For instance, museums dedicated to coffee and/or tea can be found in London, Moscow, Paris, Sao Paulo, Zurich and Kyoto, as well as in China, South Korea, Colombia and Angola. Germany has three of them. Coffee and tea must be quite popular in the Netherlands; museums dedicated to the beverages can be found there in five different cities.

VILLAGE OF LINCOLN MINUTES

The Lincoln Village Council met on Monday, May 7 at 7 p.m. at the Village Hall. The meeting opened with the "Pledge of Allegiance." Those in attendance included: President Jordan, treasurer Hussain, clerk Somers and council members Gauthier, Healy, Mahalak, Putsky and Somers. Council Member Zielinski was absent. The minutes of the April meeting were approved on a motion from Mahalak with support from Gauthier. The treasurer's report was approved subject to audit on a motion from Gauthier with support from Mahalak. Clerk Somers gave a list of budget adjustments necessary to close out the 17/18 budget year. A motion was made by Gauthier, with support from Mahalak, to amend the budget. Carried. Mike Serafin gave the fire department/first responder report. There were several runs over the past month. May 14 will be a training event for the group.

Carrie Hale attended the meeting to express concerns about the recent vandalism at the playground. She has talked to several people who are interested in helping with funding new cameras. President Jordan is working on the issue with the Alcona County Sheriff's Office and the Michigan State Police. President Jordan will take care of having another camera installed. Bonny Gauthier will head up a committee to begin working on more solutions for the playground. A discussion was held regarding the boat launch bids. Two bids were received last month and council members had agreed to revisit the issue this month. A motion was made by Healy, with support from Mahalak, to accept and award the bid with the right to include an addendum with Lincoln Sand & Gravel. Carried. The street report was given. President Jordan expressed thanks to Dave James and Steve Slater for their help during the recent storm. The dump truck broke down during that time and we were fortunate to use a truck and plow from the Alcona County Road Commission and Kenny Lalonde. The sewer report was given. In old business, Healy stated that they did not attend the RRC meeting due to the snow storm. They have been working on paperwork in the meantime. Council members were reminded about the upcoming public forum for the master plan. It will be held at the Chosen Ranch Community Center on Traverse Bay State Road on Wednesday, May 16 at 6 p.m.

Gauthier stated that several properties that need to be cleaned up. President Jordan will talk to Troy Somers. In new business, Healy stated that the ball fields are looking pretty good. Putsky has been working to see what needs to be done to fix the fish stocking issue on Brownlee Lake. The compressors will be turned on beginning Tuesday. The trees on Second Street will have the boards removed tomorrow. Beautification Committee will meet on Thursday.

President Jordan gave his report. A request was received for funds for the Fourth of July celebration in Barton City. Council members decided not to send funds due to the already stretched budget and recent vandalism at the park that will need to be paid for. A motion was made by Mahalak, with support from Putsky, to sell the old dock that is no longer being used. Carried. Any proceeds will be used towards the new boat launch. The two road projects that are upcoming next year will possibly tie into a project that the road commission will be doing. President Jordan suggested that we consider bidding the entire project out together which could save money for both groups. Council members are very interested in joining forces and will revisit the issue when it's time to do the actual bid process. A website meeting will be scheduled soon. President Jordan informed the group that he will not be running for re-election. He said he simply feels it is time to retire. A motion to pay the bills as presented was made by Gauthier with support from Mahalak. Carried. A motion to adjourn was made by Gauthier with support from Mahalak. Carried.

Business Award
 Mike Palumbo, chairman of the board of Northland Area Federal Credit Union, was awarded the 2018 Howard Spencer Grassroots Volunteer Activist Award named after his Northland peer Howard Spencer. Palumbo received this honor for his political and legislative work within the credit union industry.

The Michigan Credit Union League (MCUL) presented the award at the state's capital during the MCUL, 2018 Government Affairs Conference, which gathers each year to get state and federal regulation and advocacy updates and to speak with state lawmakers about issues facing credit unions.
