Cold case homicide investigators need information

By Cheryl Peterson
Editor

Seven years ago, a mother of four children, who loved animals — especially horses, disappeared without a trace and hasn't been heard from since.

Lisa Marie Knight was 29-years old and living in Ossineke when she disappeared on June 8, 2012. "Based on our investigation her (then) husband Lloyd Frey was the last known person to see her alive. She disappeared after that and two days later a friend reported her missing," said Michigan State Police Detective Stephen Harshberger. He explained the investigation began as a missing person. As days passed without finding her, it eventually became a homicide investigation.

Last Thursday, two days before the seven-year anniversary of Knight's disappearance, a press conference was held at the Michigan State Police (MSP) post in Alpena. Knight's parents, Mark and Jean Knight, attended as did six news outlets. "This is an important case," said Lt. Travis House, MSP public information officer for the Seventh District. "We want people to know that someone is missing and her family needs closure."

"This is on our minds every day. We will always grasp at the hope that she will be found. There are people out there who know something... We've tried to move on, and have, for the most part, but it's always in the back of our minds," Mark Knight said.

Early in the investigation, Knight's now ex-husband became a "person of interest." Harshberger said Frey cooperated with a search of the residence, including the backyard where a concrete patio was put in after Knight's disappearance. "We used a cadaver dog and bored under the concrete during the search. We found nothing," he said.

In 2017 Charles Butler also became a person of interest as well. "We were not able to substantiate his involvement," Harshberger said. Both men are still considered, according to Harshberger, persons of interest. "We've had about 150 tips that have come in on this case — every tip has been followed up on... all but a dozen are left that we are pursuing."

Knight's parents, who live in Ossineke, visit with her two oldest children often when they are in the area. Knight's children were 13, nine, six and one-year-old when she disappeared. According to the Knights, they are doing well. "The two oldest like to talk about their mom with us. They have the most memories of her... We tell stories and talk about her," Jean Knight said. "I like to talk about Lisa. It keeps her alive. She was a happy person. She loved her children and they were her life — that's why I know she would never have left her children. She loved pets, had horses, loved going to the beach, having picnics and bonfires. She was everyone's friend."

"Please, please, please come forward," Jean Knight said to anyone who may have information they haven't shared with investigators. "These kids need closure... they need to move on."

"Just come forward and say what you might know — let the police decide if it is important or not. There is no reasonable rational for not coming forward," Mark Knight said.

Anyone with information — no matter how important they think it is — is asked to contact the state police post or call Crime Stoppers hotline for anonymity. "As often happens in cold cases, relationships change over time and people who were previously unwilling to come forward with information become more comfortable doing so," said Harshberger. "Sometimes people are afraid, or they aren't sure the informa-

Bike trail from Oscoda to Alpena gets another look

Trail enthusiasts gathered last month at the Alcona Township hall in Black River for a preliminary discussion about creating a non-motorized pathway connecting Oscoda and Alpena. The invited group was based on previous or current involvement in trail discussions for the proposed route and included local units of government, state officials, community and economic development groups, local businesses and trail advocates

With a grant from Coastal Zone Management Program garnered by the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments (NEMCOG), Emily Meyerson, an independent planning consultant with a background in trail planning and development, is facilitating the process. Meyerson and NEMCOG's Steve Schnell, community and economic development planner, led the discussion.

The idea of a trail between Oscoda and Alpena has been on the wish list for representatives of the US-23 Heritage Route Management Council for quite some time. Several segments of trail have already been established enhancing the recreational opportunities along the Heritage Route, which runs from Standish to Mackinac City.

"I know the late Karen Sanderson would be in her words 'geeked' by this news," said attendee Marlina MacNeill, whom sat in on the May 8 meeting and with Sanderson (who passed away last year), represented Alcona County on the Heritage Route Management Council beginning in early 2000.

"We couldn't seem to get the idea to grow, although the path through Harrisville State Park and the City of Harrisville was sparked by the Alcona Heritage Route group in part due to Karen's enthusiasm and energy. And now, after all these years, there's hope for continuation of the trail," said MacNeill. "So I, too, am excited to learn the idea is getting a second breath."

The discussion revealed that factors and influences have changed for the positive in relation to building non-motorized trails over the years. Statistical data showing both economic benefits and increased safety benefits are now documented, helping to pave the way for new facility development.

"Trails typically increase property values, local economic vitality including trail-oriented development, and a general trend toward better physical and mental health through recreational and physical activity," Meyerson said. "With this documented benefits, non-motorized facilities and trails have grown throughout the nation and

Harrisville ready for busy Saturday of sales

By Mary Weber
Staff Writer

Summer is here and there is a sense of quiet enthusiasm floating throughout Harrisville. People are in their garages and homes surveying closets, drawers and cupboards deciding what to keep and what to put in this weekend's community garage sale event.

The Harrisville's Community Garage Sale has been happening on the Saturday before Father's Day for over 20 years and is one of those events that you don't want to miss -- either as a sale attendee or as a sale sponsor.

This year the event will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday, June 15.

"It's a great way to spend a Saturday getting rid of stuff no longer wanted or needed and make some money. People shopping for bargains like this event because it is in a walkable and approachable, friendly location," said event cosponsor Cheryl Peterson.

"Everyone likes good deals or to find some unusual treasures, but this event is more than that, this is very social and the perfect opportunity for folks to meet new people or visit with someone you haven't seen in a while. I've watched old friendships rekindle over a table of treasures. It's a good time."

Peterson and her husband, John Boufford, own the Alcona County Review which has been printing the maps for Harrisville's Community Garage Sale pretty much since the event was started by the Huron Shores Chamber of Commerce (now the Alcona County Chamber of Commerce).

At the time, the chamber collected details and a minimal fee to have a sale listed on the map and the Review would do the printing.

Several years ago, the chamber decided it didn't really need to be involved, so the Review took over col-

"If anyone who has information can come into the post or call us, we can follow up better if we can contact that person for possible questions. different types of facilities are now more accepted than 10 years ago. In Michigan, trails are now being developed within active rail corridors and on existing roadways".

The grant-funded project goal is to develop a publicly supported trail route based on feasibility to construct, costs and the best location for both transportation and recreational uses. Part of the plan for trail development is the long-term management and maintenance of such a facility.

Attendees were tasked with identifying trail connections and destinations, inventorying the local highlights and existing bicycle routes and discussing known safety concerns for bicyclists and pedestrians. The group created a list of others who may be interested in participating and chatted about an appropriate name characterizing the trail.

Meyerson explained the trail planning process will include public input through online surveys and public meetings later this year. If you are interested in participating in the committee and/or want more information about the project please contact Emily Meyerson, emeyerson14@gmail.com or (231) 838-1539 or visit: <http://www.discovernortheastmichigan.org/sunrise-coasttrl.asp>.

Marlette ends Tiger's season in regional semis

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

The Alcona varsity baseball team gave the Marlette team a battle through about four innings of the Division IV regional semifinal game in Mio on Wednesday, June 5.

The Red Raiders dominated the final three innings however, handing the Tigers an 8-4 season-ending setback.

"It's always tough to see your season come to an end," said head coach Nate Walker. "We didn't play very good defense, which ultimately cost us the game."

The Tigers led the contest 4-3 after a big four run bottom of the third, and were tied 4-4 entering the top of the fifth. Marlette plated a pair of unearned runs in the top of the fifth, giving it a 6-4 lead and they scored two more in the top of the seventh.

The Tigers' defensive errors often extended innings, allowing the Red Raiders to cash in on five unearned runs.

"I don't want to take anything away from them, they were definitely a good team but sloppy play in the field cost us," Walker said. "You can't have five errors and beat a good team, it just doesn't happen. You can't expect to win that way."

Alcona trailed 3-0 entering the bottom of the third, but Zach Dettmer drew a one out walk and Gavin Walker was hit by a pitch to start the rally.

Zach Stephenson followed by blooming a single to right-field, loading the bases. Josh Kilbourn was next, and promptly roped a two-run single to left field to bring the score to 3-2.

Jacob Sytek tied the game at 3-3 with a single two batters later and John Surgener put the Tigers ahead 4-3 with a sacrifice fly to right field.

"Our nine-hitter got on to start the inning and when that happens, he usually scores," Walker said. "Once the guys saw one cross the plate, they got fired up and started hitting the ball. Hits come in pairs usually."

Marlette was able to tie the game with an unearned run in the top of the fourth inning and pulled away from there.

"I'm super proud of the way we turned around what was a rather disappointing season," Walker said. "We were struggling pretty bad there in the middle of the season, but we got back to the basics and started playing good baseball. Winning a district title always makes for a successful season no matter how the rest looked. I can't say enough about this group, I loved coaching them, and I'm going to miss every senior."

Kilbourn took the loss, as he pitched the final three innings and gave up four runs, two earned on four hits, two strikeouts and one walk.

Surgener started the game, tossing the first four innings and gave up four runs, one earned on seven hits, five strikeouts and one walk.

The Tigers had seven hits in the game, led by Jakob Tanner and Sytek with two hits apiece.

Alcona finished the season 15-16 overall.

"We were pretty young this year," Walker said. "We started four sophomores and two freshmen pretty much all year. That makes for a good core coming in next year. We have some work to do defensively but I suspect we will have those things cleaned up by next spring."

SENIOR LIFESTYLES

How to protect yourself from Social Security scam

Dear Savvy Senior,
I recently received a strange call from a Social Security employee. He told me my Social Security number had been suspended because it was involved in a crime, and that I needed to reactivate it and secure my bank funds by withdrawing them and putting them on gift cards. Is this a scam?
Worried Rita

Dear Worried,
Yes. It's actually known as the "Social Security imposter scam" and it's becoming a widespread problem in the U.S. The Federal Trade Commission has received more than 76,000 reports about this growing scam in the past 12 months alone. With average losses of $1,500, this scam is quickly becoming one of fraudsters' favorite tricks. The Social Security imposter scam usually begins with a consumer receiving a call from someone claiming to be with the Social Security Administration. The caller informs the victim that their Social Security number (SSN) has been suspended because it was stolen or has been involved in a crime.

The phone call may be a robocaller with a message to "press 1" to speak with a fake support representative who then claims to be able to help reactivate the consumer's SSN.

In a variation on this scam, the caller may also reach out to tell a victim that they qualify for an increase in benefits. All they need to do is provide the scammer with some information. Typically, these callers will ask their victims several questions to get personal information that they can then use to steal their identity or drain their bank accounts.

Because of the numerous data breaches, these scammers may have access to accurate personal information – such as your SSN – that they can use to build trust and appear legitimate. Regardless, before concluding the scam, fraudsters will almost always request payment to "unfreeze" the SSN or to process the increase in benefits. The scammer may request that they be paid via an unusual payment method such as by gift card (and giving the fraudster the gift card number), or some form of cryptocurrency like Bitcoin.

While the scam can be devastating, there are several steps you can take to prevent yourself, and your loved ones, from falling victim to this scam:

• Don't trust your caller ID: Scammers can make it look as if the Social Security Administration is calling and even use the agency's real number. If you receive an unexpected call from Social Security, don't answer it. Instead, call Social Security's customer service number at (800) 772-1213 to see if they were actually trying to contact you.

Remember, Social Security will never suspend your number or call and demand money: If anyone tells you something different, you're being scammed.

• Don't give out personal information: Never give out your Social Security number, bank information or other personal details to an unknown caller. If you already did, visit Identity-Theft.gov/SSA to find out what steps you can take to protect your credit and your identity.

• Don't trust the caller just because they may know some of your personal information: It's most likely a scam if the person on the other end asks to confirm your information.

• Talk about the experience: Those who've been targeted should alert friends and neighbors about the call to spread information and report the scam to the FTC at FTC.gov/complaint.

(Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit SavvySenior.org.)

Alcona thrower heads to trade school in Kansas

By Cheryl Peterson
Editor

It is a short, up-hill climb to a cement pad, about seven feet square, with a large circle painted around the edges. Anyone standing on it facing north has a small grove of pine trees to their back and an open, grass-covered field sprawling in front of them. Peeking through the tall grass are two stakes – one at 130 feet and another at 161 feet from the pad.

This is where John Sharboneau, a 2019 Alcona High School graduate, spent countless hours practicing for the two track events he participated in during his high school career. All those hours of practice, his competitive drive and the tutelage of his father, Donald Sharboneau, and former coach Larry Spare, paved the way for the next two years of John's life.

John was a discus and shot put thrower on the Alcona varsity track team for the last four years. He went to state finals when he was a sophomore for discus and, again this year for both events. Throwing the discus is where he excelled and placed seventh in Division IV this year.

That could be where the story ended, but John will not be leaving his discus and shot put behind when he leaves home later this summer to pursue a two-year degree in electrical technology at Northwestern Kansas Technical College in Goodland, Kansas (about three hours east of Denver, Colo.) He will be attending this trade school on a track scholarship.

"I was looking for a trade school that had a track and field program," John said. "It wasn't easy, and I thought I'd have to go to college instead. I was talking to a school in Illinois when Northwestern called."

John joined Alcona's track team as a freshman but injured his knee and couldn't participate in running events. "I was looking for something else that wasn't as stressful on my joints," John said. "Coach Larry Spare suggested throwing. (At first) I wasn't the best thrower on the team, but he knew I had the potential. He worked with me before school – like seven in the morning. There aren't many coaches that will do that... I realized that if he was willing to put that effort in for me, I was willing to put that much effort into throwing discus."

John's father also threw discus and shot put in high school and began helping when he took on the event. He put in the practice area for John in a field next to their home outside of Lincoln, during his sophomore year. "My dad coached me at home. When Coach Spare left (the track program) my dad was pretty much my full-time coach," John said.

Both of John's siblings - Karen, a junior, and David, an eighth grader, are also athletes in Alcona's track and field program. "We got strength, will and drive from our dad's side of the family and our mom's side (Lucy Sharboneau) has small stature and endurance - they can run forever. My brother David is a distance runner," John said.

Discus is John's favorite of the two events. "Throwing (discus) takes a lot of finesse ... it's very complex," John said. "It's not necessarily about strength... Timing is everything to get a good release. Flexibility is important and so is being light on your feet - kind of like a ballet dancer."

"Most of all you have to have the willingness and drive to compete. You can be the most flexible ballet dancer but, if you don't have the will you won't be the best you can be."

John chased the school record in discus - 161 feet - set by Nelson Hansen in 1981. But the farthest he's thrown the 1.6 kilogram discus was 150 feet. However, track has not consumed his life. He also enjoys trout fishing and wood-working - of which he was competitive during high school as well. He earned several top place finishes in regional competitions for word working. He works part-time at Lincoln Hardware.

John and his parents will visit the trade school later this month, and he will move there near the end of August.

"I'd like to thank everyone who has helped throughout my life - my parents, coaches, people at the hardware - everyone who has supported and encouraged me. I really appreciate everything," John said.

Timing, footwork, flexibility and strength make a good thrower, according to John Sharboneau.

Community Impact Grants are for a broad range of projects and programs. The maximum grant request amount is $5,000. The deadline to apply is July 15.

Women's Giving Circle Grants are for projects and programs that address issues important to women in northeast Michigan. The maximum grant request amount is $2,500. The deadline to apply for WGC grants is July 1.

Applications and guidelines for both grant opportunities are available at cfnem.org where they may be completed online and submitted via email or printed for completion. If applications are mailed, they must be post-marked by the grant deadline date and sent to the CFNEM office at P.O. Box 495, Alpena, Mich. 49707. Applicants may also call the Community Foundation office for more information at (877) 354-6881.

Flag Day Ceremony

The public is invited to the annual Flag Day Ceremony hosted by the Tawas Area Elks Lodge No. 2525 on Friday, June 14, at 6 p.m. at the Iosco County Veterans Recognition Plaza located between the Tawas City Post Office and the Tawas City Hall. Following the 30-minute Flag Day ceremony, the Tawas Elks will be awarding $8,500 in college scholarships to eight area students, including Hailee Gordy from Alcona High School.

Patriotism has characterized the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the United States of America since the early days of the organization and allegiance to the flag of the United States is a requirement of every member. In 1907, the Elks Grand Lodge designated June 14 as Flag Day and adopted mandatory observance of the occasion by every Lodge in 1911. That requirement continues today. The Elks prompted President Woodrow Wilson to recognize the Elk's observance of Flag Day for its patriotic expression. But it was not until 1949 when President Harry Truman, himself a member of the Elks, made the proclamation that thereafter June 14 would be a day of national observance for the symbol of the country. The Elks request that people bring their own lawn chairs to the ceremony. Questions can be directed to the Tawas Elks Flag Day Chairperson, Brad Saegesser, at (989) 820-7171.

Hidden in Plain Sight

Members of the community are invited to view the new project, Hidden in Plain Sight – a trailer that consists of a mockup of a teenager's bedroom, which includes commonly used items, along with other factors, that could indicate the teenager is at risk of making poor choices. Parents/guardians, teachers, and community leaders are invited to walk through the trailer and try to find the items throughout the bedroom. The goal is to educate adults in contact with teenagers on drug trends and things to be aware of in addition to providing information and sources of help to parents who may recognize their child is at risk.

This trailer was created to educate the public, especially parents/guardians, teachers, and community leaders, to the potential warning signs of drug use and risky behaviors. The Michigan State Police post in Alpena will have the trailer open in front of the post at 3283 West Washington Ave., Alpena, on Thursday, June 20, from 1 to 3 p.m. for public viewing. For additional information, contact Community Service Trooper Ashley Simpson at (989) 354-4101.

lecting for sale listings to be on the map and continued printing it. Boufford explained he didn't mind doing it for the community since it was such a worthwhile event and wanted to see it continue.

According to Peterson, back in the day, when there were more storefronts in Harrisville, the stores would have sidewalk sales on that Saturday so people could shop both retail sales and garage sales. "There are some businesses who might take advantage of this weekend with a sidewalk sale. But, either way, it should be a very busy Saturday in Harrisville. Even if businesses don't put sale items out on the sidewalk, they usually have good deals and wonderful items, so shopping inside is fun too," Peterson said.

The maps are used by those shoppers who take the event seriously and strategize what sales they will start with and where they will finish -- but not every sale makes the map. "Sale-goers can get very serious about this and will be out looking for bargains while people are still setting up in the early morning.

"For every 10 houses on the map, there are probably 10 more who just put out tables with stuff to sell. Anybody can have a garage sale this weekend or anytime. This is a well-known event, whether they are on the map or not, if the weather is good, they can expect to get shoppers who are just walking up and down the streets in Harrisville," Peterson said.

Mapped locations pay $3 to be on it and typically there are at least 20 or more locations on the map. The maps, of which about 300 will be printed, will be available free of charge on Thursday, June 13 at selected Harrisville locations such as the Shell and BP gas stations, the Chamber of Commerce office located in Harbortown Marketplace, Harrisville Harbor Grocery (HHG) and the Alcona County Review office until supply runs out.

"Bargain hunting at garage sales is a big thing and it is great to have an event like this on one day in our community. Neighbors bond. Moms and dads push strollers and pull kids in wagons. Families shop together, friends make a day of it -- everyone has fun looking at great stuff with great prices and chatting about similar interests. Everybody is happy and having a good day.

"It truly is a throwback to the days when people were outside more and were not tied to electronics for entertainment."

The Alcona County Review will not be open on the day of the event, but the owners hope everyone finds a special treasure during the event, especially if it's a friend.

Leslie Spalding visits Paris and Versailles

June 12, 1919 ~ (Leslie is on the U.S.S. Oklahoma which left Norfolk, Va., May 6 to go to Brest, France, to escort President Wilson home. They arrived in Brest May 14 and since that time have been waiting for the president to sign the peace treaty before he sails for the U.S.)

May 26, 1919
My Dear Mother:
Some folks were born lucky and some were not; but I happened to strike a little luck when I was able to visit Paris. I had a fine trip and saw many beautiful sights. The country between Brest and Paris is wonderful and I only wish that we could have made the trip during the day, but we left about 5.30 so couldn't.

But what we saw before dark was beautiful. The fields are green with spring crops and the trees (most of them have been planted in rows) are great. The railroad facilities are not very good, although they are a little better than in England. It took us about twelve hours to make the trip from here, going and coming both at night.

The streets of Paris are narrow with the exception of the boulevards, which are about as wide as the boulevards in our cities. They have no traffic cops so one crossing the streets has to be very careful as the automobiles travel at a higher speed than in the U. S.

I took a trip down the Seine river which was wonderful. There were many interesting sights to be seen and the Y. M. C. A. man in charge of the party explained everything in detail. In some places the sights came so fast he got his tongue all twisted up in trying to tell us all.

I was on the big Ferris wheel which carries one up 360 feet. This wheel will carry 6,000 people; it is the same one that was in Chicago when the world's exposition was there. Near this wheel is the Eiffel tower which is 1,000 feet to top of the flag staff.

No visitors are allowed in the tower since the war as it has been used as a wireless station; but now they are taking the wireless outfit down, so it will soon be open to the public again.

I went to see the famous war painting which is certainly great. The figures in this painting look as if they could step down and speak to one any minute, they are so life-like.

The painting is in the form of a circle and goes clear around the building. It is 360 feet in circumference and 50 feet high. It was started right after the war started (June 1914) and was opened to the public in October, 1918. It took nineteen artists to paint the picture and it sure is a wonder. The "Y" man also explained this to us.

I took one afternoon to go to Versailles. I believe it is the most beautiful place I ever saw. The king's hunting place is near here and the undergrowth is as thick as in the woods at home. There are many monuments erected about the place that are of interest. We went thru the palace that was formerly used by the kings but now is only a show place that visitors flock to see. I was in the room where the peace treaty is to be signed and had my hands on the peace table. The German peace delegates are staying near this palace but no one is allowed to go near them and they are not allowed to mingle with other people.

I saw many other beautiful things but they are too numerous to explain. I will try to tell you more when I reach home—whenever that will be. There is no telling when we will leave here or where we will go first.

We were supposed to have gone to Belgium yesterday but as the signing of the peace was delayed a week. I don't know whether we will go now or not it is also rumored that we are going to England, but that is only a rumor.

June 12, 1969 ~ The Senior Class of Alcona High School, seventy-three in number, received their diplomas at the commencement program held Tuesday night at the high school.

The program included the organ prelude and procession by David Green, organist, invocation by Rev. Larry Richmond of Mikado, the salutatory by Brenda Gunderson, valedictory by Joanne Campbell, address by Mr. Richard Nisbet of Eastern Michigan University, presentation of awards, scholarship and diplomas, and the benediction by Rev. J. Russell Hughes of Harrisville.

Mr. Taylor Mathieson presented the American Legion Award from Burt-McCulloch Post 476 and their Auxiliary Award by Mrs. Norma Williams. The V.F.W. Award from Alcona Post No. 6466 was presented by Mr. Edw. Matuzak and Mrs. George Wilson, the Auxiliary to Post 6466 Award. Scholarships and special awards were read by Mr. John Gruden, Principal, and Mr. Arthur Katona, President of the Board of Education, gave out the diplomas.

Superintendent Richard Tobias introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Nisbet, who is Director of Placement at E.M.U. in Ypsilanti. In his inspiring message he urged the graduates to commence their new future with careful planning. "Plan your work - then work your plan.

Choose goals that are worthy ones, set them high and don't sell yourself too cheaply." He cited the ever-changing all-time records set in sports events and that what is true in sports endeavors is true in all fields. Man continually is reaching new heights.

Walk tall, think tall, feel tall - as great men do. It really makes you taller! Success in any venture is seldom based on luck."

Mr. Gruden revealed that thirty-seven of the graduates will pursue a college education, nineteen in two-year colleges, eighteen in four-year, two in business schools, one in Technical school and one in a Culinary Institute in Connecticut.

Listed below are the top ten students of Alcona's 1968-69 graduating class:

Joanne Campbell, Brenda Gunderson, Rita Sterling, Karen Gauthier, Mary Jack, James Deller, Barbara Pizer, Howlene Apsey, Elizabeth Jack and Pamela Liichow.

Senior Scholarship and Award Winners - 1968-69 Howlene Apsey will attend Alma College. She was awarded the Board of Trustees Scholarship and Educational Opportunity Grant from Alma College.

James Bush, Alpena Community College, V.F.W. award.

Joanne Campbell, Central Michigan University; Dalton Meisel Scholarship from Central, Higher education Scholarship from State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship-Program and Education Opportunity Grant from Central.

James Deller, Alpena Community College; Harrisville Lions Auxiliary Scholarship from Alpena C.C. and American Legion Award from Burt-McCulloch Post 476.

Strange But True

By Samantha Weaver

- It was noted 20th-century American playwright Arthur Miller who made the following sage observation: "Maybe all one can do is hope to end up with the right regrets."
- When creating its cocoon, the silkworm spins a continuous thread more than a thousand yards long, or 12,000 times the length of its own body. To accomplish a comparable feat, a 6-foot-tall man would have to spin a thread that stretched unbroken for 15 miles.
- You may be surprised to learn that the onion is actually a lily, botanically speaking.
- In 2016, Michigan State University received a delivery of inedible mayonnaise -- the mayo had been frozen and thawed during transit, spoiling all 10,000 pounds of the condiment. Instead of just throwing it out, MSU decided to put the bad mayo to good use. The campus already had an anaerobic digester -- a device that decomposes organic waste and converts it to methane -- so they poured in all 500 2.5-gallon tubs.
- Guinness, that notoriously dark and bitter brew, contains fewer calories than skim milk or orange juice. Stout for breakfast, anyone?
- If someone were to ask you to name the sunniest spot on Earth, you might be tempted to answer "the Sahara Desert" or some other such exotic place. You would be wrong, though; that distinction belongs to a town right here in America. Out of the possible 4,456 daylight hours each year, the sun shines for an average of 4,050 in Yuma, Arizona. That means that there's cloud cover or rain for only about 10 percent of the time there.

Thought for the Day: "Whatever a man prays for, he prays for a miracle. Every prayer reduces itself to this: Great God, grant that twice two be not four." -- Ivan Turgenev

VILLAGE OF LINCOLN MINUTES

The Lincoln Village Council met on Monday, June 3 at 7 p.m. at the village hall. The meeting opened with the "Pledge of Allegiance." Those in attendance included president Phillips, treasurer Hussain, clerk Somers and council members Healy, Mahalak, Putsky, Wambold and Zielinski. Council member Somers was absent. The minutes of the May meeting were approved on a motion from Mahalak, with support from Wambold. The treasurer's report was approved, subject to audit, on a motion from Zielinski, with support from Mahalak.

Treasurer Hussain presented a list of delinquent sewer customers that need to be placed on the tax rolls. The following motion was made by Mahalak, with support from Zielinski, that said: Be it resolved on a request from the village treasurer received and filed that these accounts, including penalties, are unpaid:

Heather's House of Hair	052-000-031-010-01	$303.34
Kirk Belt	052-000-023-003-00	$134.19
Mary Ross	052-000-024-002-00	$304.34
Timothy Hutchinson	052-000-027-010-10	$ 63.00
Yesterday's Restaurant	052-000-024-001-02	$1,095.59

A motion was made by Zielinski, with support from Mahalak, to pay the bills as presented. Carried.

Theresa Hart gave a rundown on the Flights of Imagination Playground that need to be addressed. She stated that there are some repairs that need to be done. She stated that something needs to be done with the weeds and the play area needs to be resealed. She suggested that there is a possibility that we can use a different product for sealing rather than what was used in the past.

She suggested that we also consider putting funds aside for the fiber fill / aka Fibar that will need to be replaced next year. Mahalak, Wambold and Zielinski offered to form a committee to get the playground repairs and resealing project moving forward.

Committee Reports were given. The Human Resources committee is pleased with the work being done by Warren. He's put the buoys and swim platforms in at the beach.

The planning commission met on May 9 and only two members showed up. The two who were there suggested that we appoint Jason Durham to replace either Brett Wambold or Sheila Phillips. A motion was made by Mahalak, with support from Wambold, to appoint Jason Durham to fill the spot on the planning commission that was previously held by Sheila Phillips. Carried. The next meeting for the group is Thursday, June 6 at 7 p.m. The RRC has not met lately due to waiting on paperwork.

Mike Serafin gave the fire and first responder reports. There were 13 first responder assists and three fires over the past month. The fire department participated in the Spruce Days Parade recently. Putsky gave the sewer report. Things are going along well, currently. President Phillips gave the street report. Notification was received on the Barlow Road Project. It appears that it will be done in Spring 2020. The sidewalk project will have to wait until next year due to not having funds available in this budget. The 37th Annual Lincoln Lions Fishing Tournament chairmen Mark Feldhiser (facing), Lee Major (front) and Lonnie Crampton (left) consider this year's tournament to be successful. The three-day event concluded on Sunday, June 2. Smoked Salmon, captained by Bill Washabaugh, pulled out a victory by three tenths of a pound over Rick Konecke's Wipe Out (159.2 to 158.9 pounds). The battle for third was even closer, as Mark Feldhiser's Feld's Farm edged Lee Major's Lazy Days (148.0 to 147.9 pounds). A total of 2,374 pounds of fish were weighed during the two-day total weight event. Twenty-two boats registered for the three-day event, an increase of five boats from last year. Nine of the boats entered the Shotmaker's Ladies Classic on Friday with Jerry Perrin on Last Chance weighing in the heaviest catch of the weekend (96.0 pounds) to take first place, followed by Lazy Days with 67.8 pounds. Nearly all of the fish weighed were lake trout, with the occasional small salmon and steelhead consistent with the past few years. Courtesy photo.
