Family residency program comes to local health care provider

Alcona Health Center (AHC) is entering a new collaboration with MyMichigan Medical Center Midland to bring a rural track, family medicine residency program to Alpena County.

This residency program allows licensed, recently graduated doctors, to continue their training in a hands-on environment.

These residents receive mentorship and supervision from a faculty healthcare provider while gaining real world experience and a better understanding of what it means to practice medicine in a rural setting.

MyMichigan Midland Family Medicine Residency - Alcona Health Center Campus will be located within the AHC location in Ossineke (11745 US-23 South).

Joining the AHC team will be faculty provider Dr. Michelle LaFave and second year family medicine residents, Dr. Christian Grant and Dr. David Westphal.

Grant earned his medical degree from American University of the Caribbean School of Medicine, St. Maarten, Netherlands-Antilles. Westphal earned his medical degree from Michigan State University College of Human Medicine.

Both healthcare providers have chosen to further their training through the residency program at the Alcona Health Center Campus for the next two years. Under the guidance and supervision of LaFave.

LaFave has experience practicing family medicine in rural northeast Michigan and brings a passion for teaching to the role. As the faculty provider, she will directly oversee the residents, mentoring them during appointments and reviewing patient charts. "I am excited to bring my experience in family medicine in a rural setting to this venture," LaFave said. "Mentoring the family doctors in this setting achieves community health-care needs now and is the way forward in adjusting to future needs."

Patients who establish care with Dr. Grant or Dr. Westphal will benefit from the care of two healthcare providers reviewing their chart and attending to their healthcare needs - a licensed, recent medical school graduate and the experience of Dr. LaFave.

Those interested in establishing care with either Dr. Grant or Dr. Westphal are encouraged to phone the health center at (989) 471-2156. While they do not start seeing patients until July, appointments for both providers are currently being scheduled.

In 2023, two additional family medicine residents will join the program. Residents participating in the MyMichigan Family Medicine Residency program who choose the rural track at the Alcona Health Center Campus will be seeing patients at the Ossineke office for two years. There will be up to four residents in the program at a time.

Additional information about the program can be found at mymichigan.org/residency and alconahealthcenters.org/location/Ossineke-clinic/.

"We are excited to collaborate with MyMichigan Medical Center Midland to bring this rural track family medicine residency to Alpena County," said Alcona Health Center CEO Nancy Spencer. "Not only do we have the opportunity to expand access to healthcare in our community through the residency program, we also hope that the experience the residents have in northeast Michigan encourage them to stay in the area to practice."

"The residency program is so excited to partner with the Alpena community and Alcona Health Center to train residents in a rural setting. We know that physicians tend to stay in or near the community where they train and hope that this endeavor will continue to grow primary care in northern Michigan," said Dr. Kelly Hill, MyMichigan Midland family medicine program director.

Educators bid farewell to Alcona Community Schools

By Mary Weber
Staff Writer

"In a completely rational society, the best of us would be teachers and the rest of us would have to settle for something less."

~Lee Iacocca

In addition to saying good-bye to students for the 2021-2022 school year last week, Alcona Community Schools said good-bye to three educators.

Retiring teachers, Dorene Schick and Jeanette Klein were both special education teachers for the school system for many years. Patti Byce was a paraprofessional for many years as well.

Schick and Byce were both working at the high school level upon retirement. Klein worked at the elementary school.

Superintendent Dan O'Connor said Klein worked for the district in many roles serving students from kindergarten through 12th grade while also supporting the district as a special education director. "Jeanette had tremendous relationships with students. We will miss her caring heart and smile," he said.

Schick had been a teacher with the school district for her entire career, giving 31 years to Alcona County students. She moved from a small community near Central Michigan University and came north to teach in 1991 and never wanted to leave. "I found my home here. I never liked big cities, so this was perfect. I tell a lot of people I just stayed to aggravate them," Schick chided.

Schick first worked for the district as an elementary special education teacher and then taught fourth grade for 14 years before moving to the high school. She said it was nice being able to see her fourth graders grow up and many of the last fourth-graders she taught were seniors.

She felt the best part of being a teacher for Alcona Community Schools was the good people and students she has worked with over the years. "I've loved the huge variety of kids, families and staff I've worked with. All in all, it worked out well. I've enjoyed my career here," Schick said.

She said teaching changed a lot over the last three decades but the thing that changed it the most was going through COVID-19 and the hurdles of school closures and teaching students remotely caused. "Education is always swinging back and forth, but when Covid hit, it changed a lot. It was hard on the kids and hard on the staff. It is one of the reasons I thought now would be a good time to retire," Schick said.

Schick dedicated herself totally to teaching and she will miss it. "This is my life; my whole life revolves around school. It will be nice, however, to have my own schedule. I plan on coming back and helping the new (special) education teachers at the school, but I won't have to do that every day.

"The one thing I won't miss is all the paperwork. There is a lot of paperwork in special

Barbara L. Baldwin

July 14, 1944-June 10, 2022

Barbara Baldwin was born in Monroe, Mich. on July 14, 1944, to Owen and Ora (Brooks) England.

Barb, along with her sister Ruth (Frank) Hammac, her brother, Cartis England and their parents lived in LaSalle, Mich. for the majority of her life. She graduated from Monroe High School in 1962.

In 1970 at the age of 27, she met the love of her life, Norman K. Baldwin.

They were married February 28, 1974 and together they raised their seven combined children, Tammy Hammac of Monroe, Mich., Travis Hammac of Monroe, Mich. (currently residing in North Carolina), Barbara Sue (Baldwin) Swanson (deceased), Debbie Fultze of LaSalle, Mich., Keith Baldwin of Monroe, Mich., and Shannon (Barney) Weimer of Carleton, Mich.

Upon Norman's retirement in 1997, they moved to their little slice of paradise in Glennie, which was Norman's childhood stomping grounds and that is where Eddy Koreis earned a place in their heart as an honorary "son."

Barb loved the simple things in life such as tending to her flower gardens, watching the birds, butterflies, hummingbirds and deer. It is not uncommon to have dozens of hummingbirds all waiting their turn at the feeders, while the trees and feeders around their home would be filled with countless varieties of birds year round.

She also loved to crochet and played piano on occasion when the church was in need and was much more talented than she would ever let herself believe.

Nothing was more precious to her though than being "Nana" and getting to spend time with her grandchildren and great-grandchildren -- of which she and Norman shared 16 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

She loved to share her favorite desserts with everyone, but watch out if there was watermelon or strawberries around because those were hers! I think her biggest regret in life would be that she didn't travel more and that watermelon wasn't as delicious in winter as it is in the summer.

She was preceded in death by both of her parents; her mother and father-in-law, Orville and Helen Baldwin; her step-daughter, Barbara Sue Swanson; one grandchild, Megan Carley; and her dear niece, Jessie Kelly.

She is truly going to be missed by all and hopes that you remember her by filling up bird feeders, planting flowers and enjoying peaceful times.

A memorial/celebration of life will be held at 11 a.m., Saturday, July 9 with a potluck dinner immediately following at Lott Baptist Church, 4257 S. State Road (M-65), Glennie, Michigan 48737.

Grandma Beever's babies

By Eric Paul Roorda
Artist & Author

Sarah Beever came to America in the 1850s with her husband Robert and daughter Emma. They found their way to the newly named settlement of Harrisville, Michigan, and bought land from the town's eponymous founders, the Harris brothers. They cleared the densely wooded land, planted crops, and raised a family.

Sarah, a straw-weight woman, very slight of frame, gave birth to 14 children, nine of whom survived to adulthood. A nurturer by nature, she apprenticed herself to the only physician in Alcona County, Dr. David Mitchell, to assist on his childbirth calls.

Having lost five of her own offspring, she may have been motivated to help other women go through an experience that is typically painfully joyous, but which could go horribly, dangerously wrong. Overcoming her physical frailty, Sarah logged many, many arduous miles and hours to guide mothers through childbirth.

As Sarah Beever gained the knowledge and skills of a mother and midwife, she also gained the confidence to treat patients on her own, whenever Dr. Mitchell was away. Over time, the family members of women in labor, or anyone who was sick or hurt, sent directly for "Grandma Beever," as she eventually became known.

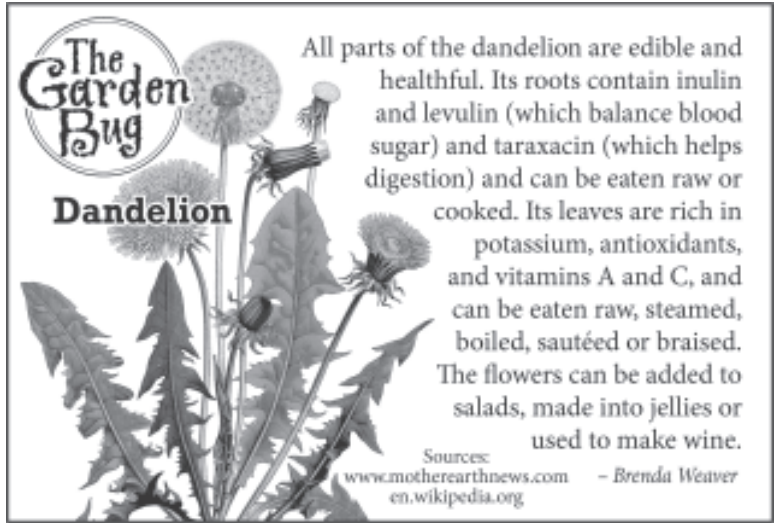

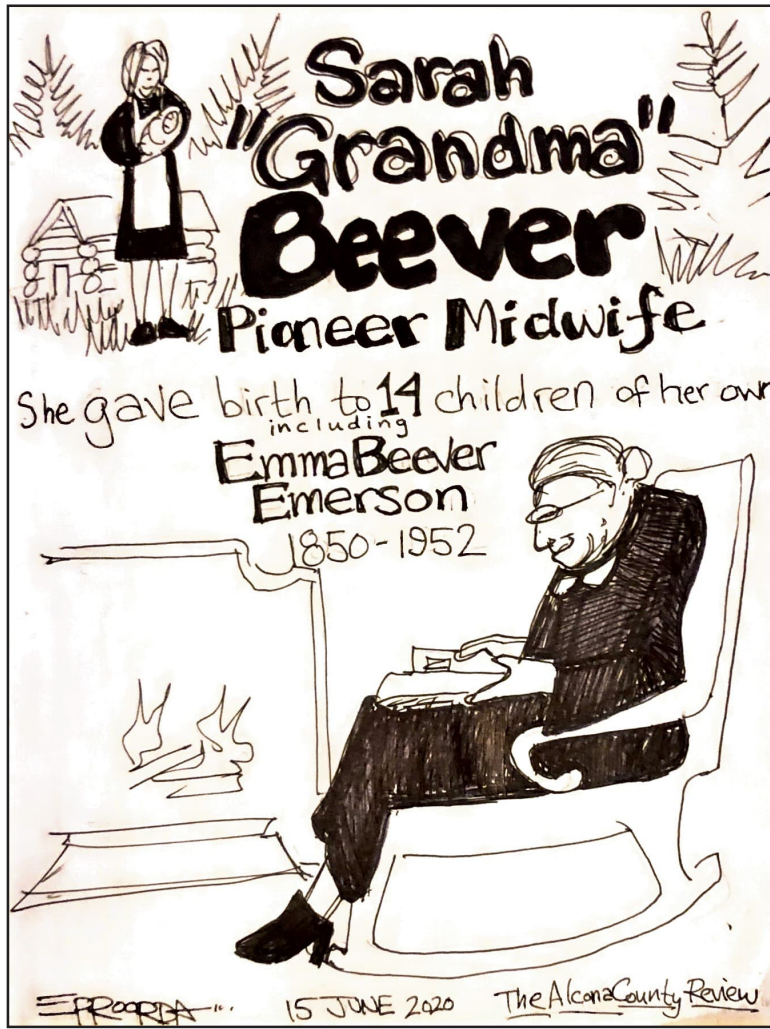

The number of babies she brought forth into the sweet air of Alcona County over her decades of practice is unknown, but it must have been a small multitude. She worked into her 70s, ultimately establishing a visiting nurses program to aid her neighbors.

In the meantime, her daughter Emma, who was born in England in 1850 and came to Harrisville with her parents as a small child, married George Emerson at the new Methodist Church in Harrisville at the age of 19.

George, a carpenter, hewed out a homestead on the edge of the wetlands west of town, and built a house for them there in 1870. The couple reared four of Grandma Beever's grandchildren there, all of them sons.

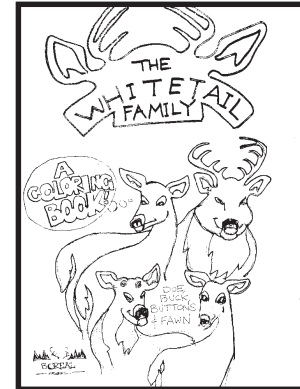

Emma Beever Emerson lived to be 102 years old. Her solidly constructed house still stands on 5th Street.

(Eric lives in Springport, where his parents put down roots 50 years ago. He was a college history professor for three decades. His books include, "The Ocean Reader" (Duke, 2020), "Twain At Sea" (Chicago, 2018).

education and it is not always helpful to the situation," Schick said.

Byce has been an educator, mother and grandmother to not only her own family, but to her school family as well. Her career has spanned over two decades as a paraprofessional. It has given her many unique opportunities to work with a wide range of special needs students, moving through the grades with them as they grew. This year Byce was very proud to watch a student she began working with in grade school, graduate.

Paraprofessionals typically assist one or two students academically throughout the year by attending classes with them. In addition, they often assist teachers by helping other students in the classroom who have questions.

"I love spending time with young people, watching them grow and mature. They are a lot of fun to be around," Byce said.

Byce won't miss the pressure she puts on herself daily to be the best educator she can be. "I always want to make sure everything goes the way it is supposed to. It's challenging. I want the students to become the best they can be, just like they were my own kids," she said.

Byce has also been an assistant athletic director and the concession stand coordinator for the district. She and Schick, who is the "grill master" for the concession stand, said they couldn't begin to count how many additional hours they have put in doing that over their careers and that it would have been interesting to add up all the pounds of meat they have cooked for sporting events.

Neither educator was sure just what they will do with all the extra time they will have but said it will be interesting and fun trying to reinvent themselves.

"I've been doing this for so long I don't even know what I like to do outside of school. I have to figure all that out. I know I want to spend more time with my family and friends. Maybe travel around Michigan.

"There are so many things to see. I want to visit a few boardwalks. I'll start watching sunrises too if I can wake up for them," Byce said.

Schick also plans on traveling and has already squeezed in a trip to Iceland before the school year was over. She has plans to visit New Orleans, La. this summer. "I'm also going to do some woodworking. I like crafting," she said.

For the colleagues she is leaving behind and the new teachers coming in, Schick would like them to get the respect they deserve. "I hope people understand how hard teachers work and how much they care about kids. I don't think many people notice what teachers do."

"Dorene's commitment to students, the school and the community have been outstanding throughout her tenure at Alcona. She has stepped into many different assignments with enthusiasm and leadership. Her experience, honesty and dedication will be sorely missed," O'Connor said.

"Patti has worked many assignments in the district with grace. The students and staff she works with love, adore and respect her. She has also been a critical component of athletic support in the district for over 15 years as an assistant athletic director."

Due to personal reasons, Klein declined an interview.

Season closes for Lady Tigers

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

The Alcona varsity softball team hoped to continue its post-season magic in a Division 4 regional semifinal game against Breckenridge last Saturday.

Instead, the Lady Tigers came up short in the contest, which was held at Carson City-Crystal, 11-1.

"We struggled hitting," said head coach Chelsea Neuenfeldt. "She had great speed and movement that we have not had a chance to see much of throughout the regular season. Our defense started strong and never faltered. We had many hard hits at us and the girls stayed down on the ball and made great plays. Hannah Tanner had a diving catch at third. Sage Gauthier had a hot glove at shortstop. Avery Wrobel stayed sound at first. The girls communicated well and never got down on themselves."

Miah Schopfer took the loss pitching, as she went seven innings and gave up 11 runs, seven earned on 10 hits, two strikeouts and seven talks.

Schopfer also had the team's lone hit, a double. Gracyn Tracy scored the team's lone run, having reached on a throwing error.

"Overall, for this season I am super proud of these young girls," Neuenfeldt said. "I have a very young team, only graduating two seniors this year. They have a deep passion for the game itself and strive to get better each day. They set goals for themselves and work hard to achieve them. They are now part of only four teams within Alcona to win districts and the youngest to do it."

"I can't wait to see how much they grow over the next few years. From day one of practice to the very last out at regionals they were constantly improving their skills and building that team camaraderie."

With such a young team, Neuenfeldt said that some good things could be in store for the future.

"As a coaching staff we are really excited for next year," she said. "We have a big group of girls coming in as freshmen and with such a young team already it is great to see the program grow hoping to expand and add a JV program. The girls will be working hard throughout the off season to continue to grow individually and as a team."

Alcona Tigers end season in regional semifinal

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

Fresh off the district championship, the Alcona varsity baseball team was focused on Johannesburg-Lewiston in a Division 4 regional semifinal game at Whittemore-Prescott on Wednesday, June 8.

The Tigers gave up a run in the bottom of the first inning and things only got worse from there, eventually falling 10-0.

"It didn't play out how I wanted it to," said head coach Dru Carson. "My boys, I don't know where they were. It didn't look like they were in it."

Jo-burg, on the other hand, looked like a team on a mission. "They played well. They were ready to play. They came prepared," Carson said.

J-L starting pitcher Riley Mcvannel proved to be a tough assignment for Tiger batters. In the top of the first inning, Gavin Walker and Collin Walker each singled to lead off the game, but the lefty Mcvannel struck out the next three Alcona batters to pitch out of that jam, and the Tigers never really threatened on offense from there.

"Their lefty was hitting his spots and their defense was solid and they were hitting the ball where my guys weren't," Carson said. "That is kind of how the game of baseball works sometimes."

In the bottom of the first, Cardinal leadoff batter Preston Marlatt reached on a walk. After stealing second base, he eventually came in to score on an Alcona throwing error for a quick 1-0 lead.

J-L plated two more runs in the bottom of the second inning and put the game away with four runs in the bottom of the third and chased Alcona starting pitcher Evan Borsvold out of the game in the process.

Trailing 9-0 in the top of the fifth, Alcona did get Cayden Hebert on with a walk and Ricky Schott beat out a throw to first base for an in-field single.

Mcvannel struck out the next two Tiger batters before departing to keep his pitch count down. Marlatt came in as relief and ended the inning with another strikeout.

The Cardinals ended the game in the bottom of the fifth. After Owen Borsvold retired the first two batters of the inning, he gave up a single to Marlatt.

Two pitches later, Marlatt stole second base, and in an attempt to throw him out, the ball sailed to the outfield, allowing the speedy Marlatt to come all the way around to score and enforce the mercy rule.

"All in all, we did end up having a really good season," Carson said. "Winning the district was nice, being a first-year coach at 24-years-old and coming up to a school I had never even heard of until I moved up here for my teaching job."

Taking the loss was E. Borsvold. He went two and two-third innings and gave up seven runs, three earned on three hits, six strikeouts and five walks. O. Borsvold tossed two innings and gave up three runs, one earned on four hits.

At the plate, G. Walker had two singles. C. Walker and Schott had one single each. Michael Basner and Hebert both reached on walks.

The Tigers finished the year 12-19 overall and graduate five seniors from this team. But with over 10 returnees to next year's squad, they could regroup quickly.

"My lefty that started (Evan Borsvold) is a freshman so he is coming back for sure, so we will get him back and working," Carson said. "His brother that came in relief (Owen Borsvold) is a junior so I have him another year. I'm losing (the seniors), but we have some guys coming back next year that, hopefully, can fill that void for me."

The East Bay Hubbard Lake boating access site is temporarily closed for site enhancements. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will replace all deteriorated concrete ramp planks. The work is expected to last until July 11, though the DNR is aiming for an earlier completion date.

The following locations also provide access to Hubbard Lake:

- North End Hubbard Lake Park and boat launch, located off Hubert Road and maintained by Caledonia Township.
- South Bay Hubbard Lake boating access site, located off Mt. Mariah Road and managed by Harrisville State Park. All of their eight living children and their families were with them on the happy occasion. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kahn from Marysville, California, (daughter Elaine unable to attend on account of school activities); Tver S. and wife Julie, and son Joel, (two sons, Edmund and Myrod unable to attend); Eugene Immerman, son of the

Pewabic lost in collision

Carried Down 125 People and 267 Tons of Copper

June 17, 1897 ~ The recent discovery of the hull of the lost steamer Pewabic after years of searching, and the expenditure of thousands of dollars, recalls the incident of her sinking on a clear moonlight night 32 years ago next August.

The Pewabic was sunk by collision with the Meteor, a sister ship of the same line, on the evening of August 9th, 1865. She was on her way from Duluth to Buffalo, and the two vessels were run close to each other in order to exchange papers. In some manner they collided. The Pewabic went down in less than 20 minutes, and the Meteor was badly damaged. Just how the accident occurred was never decided.

Some said the Meteor took sheer into the Pewabic, caused by the suction of the water, while others claimed the Pewabic tried to cross the Meteor's bow, miscalculated the distance, and was run down.

The Pewabic had about 150 passengers and a crew of about 30, and about 125 persons were drowned.

Several expeditions have tried to recover the valuable cargo, and at least two divers have lost their lives, while large sums have been expended in the search.

The cargo consisted of 267 tons of ingot copper which was in barrels on the main deck, and can probably be recovered. This copper is worth at present prices about $160,000. There was also about a hundred tons of iron ore in the hold, and some miscellaneous cargo.

It has always been claimed that there was a large amount of gold in the safes, the amount being reported at from $40,000 to $80,000. The Pewabic carried express, and it is said merchants were sending money east, and the passengers undoubtedly deposited large amounts with the purser.

This is an exaggeration for the purser of the boat who is now living says that he is positive there was not over $50 in the safe at the time of the collision.

One passenger offered a reward of $1,000 for his trunk, which contained money, and a steerage passenger who was saved claimed there were several thousand dollars and some diamonds in a belt which his wife wore.

The Pewabic carried steerage passengers, and the bodies are probably still in the hull, and the wreckers will look for the woman with the belt.

Hawes "Moonshine" Case Only Jury Trial at June Term

June 15, 1922 ~ Of the four "moonshine" cases on the June court calendar, motions have been made to nolle prosequere two, one defendant plead guilty and the fourth Stanley Bolton and Thomas Baird, charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, is in progress.

Nelson Pratt of Caledonia plead guilty and is out on suspended sentence.

In his replies to the court as to why he should not be sentenced to jail, Pratt displayed a degree of ignorance that at times even brought a smile to the stern face of the judge.

During the recess period he offered the judge a five spot if he would not send him to jail.

The panel was exhausted in securing a jury for the Bolton-Baird case and it was late Wednesday morning before twelve men were secured, both sides having exhausted their challenge rights. Trial of the case is expected to continue throughout the day or longer.

No other jury cases will be tried during the term and the jurors not in service have been dismissed.

Only one of the petitions for citizenship was granted, that of Thomas C. Anderson. Other petitioners were advised to make further study and appear later for additional examination.

Strange But True

By Lucie Winborne

- President William McKinley always wore a red carnation for good luck, but sometimes gave it away as a memento. When greeting a crowd in 1901, he handed a 12-year-old girl named Myrtle the bloom off his lapel, saying, "I must give this flower to another little flower." While it's not known if the gesture proved lucky for Myrtle, just minutes later McKinley was fatally shot by a man in the crowd.
- The larger an animal's brain, the longer it will yawn.
- Smoking has long been banned by airlines, but ashtrays are mandatory on every plane, for safe disposal in case someone breaks the law.
- A Chinese farmer named Wang Englin, who quit school in the third grade, spent 16 years teaching himself law in order to sue a chemical company that was polluting his village. Unable to buy all the books he needed, he paid a local bookstore with bags of corn to let him sit and read, copying information by hand and using a dictionary when necessary. He finally won his case in 2017.
- During World War II, a Dutch warship was disguised as a tropical island to escape detection by the Japanese.
- Convinced that stomach ulcers were caused by H. pylori bacteria, although no one else seemed to believe it, Dr. Barry Marshall drank the bacteria himself (testing it on humans was illegal), developed ulcers within days, treated them with antibiotics, and ended up winning a Nobel Prize.
- On average, professional soccer players run as far as 9 miles in a match.
